Many heroes from WWII never set foot on the battlefield.

Many Americans helped with the war effort to supply our troops and allies with what was needed to win the war. Civilians became engineers, mechanics, riveters and welders as men were called to duty. Seniors, wives and children stepped up to perform the essential tasks left vacant by soldiers in order to keep production running nonstop attaining production numbers that were and still hard to imagine possible to achieve. Car production facilities produced tanks. When the medium M3 Lee was ordered, a combined grand total of 68,864 tanks would be produced. Airplane manufacturers produced flying fortresses, and a massive effort was made by American citizens by helping to collect the raw materials to recycle into production.

Plan to take in the World War II American Experience.

Hear stories of American sacrifice, unity and might. Experience a wide variety of authentic WWII vehicles, uniforms and artifacts in realistic dioramas and exhibits that portray, not just the battlefield, but the home front as well. Take in a re-enactment or one of our living history programs as well as speakers, seminars, interactive offerings and simulated real vehicle experiences.

WORLD WAR II

American Experience

Gettysburg Command Center

Friends and Colleagues,

Our family has been treasure hunting for over 40 years. We have brought together one of the finest collections of World War II-era military vehicles and artifacts in the United States. And it is located in Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, near the family's 300-acre farm not far from the Peace Light and Battlefield sites.

Our mission is to honor the greatest generation through an immersive living history experience. Using thoughtfully curated exhibits with vehicles, artifacts and activities, we invite guests to see, touch, and understand what happened during the World War II era and how it changed the world.

*Frank Buck
President & CEO*

We want to share that collection and all its experiences and memories with you, your family, our history-loving community, and people who visit from all over the world.

We are building a $10 million nonprofit museum to honor all who fought, built, and sacrificed for what was then called "the war effort." Our goal is to help people understand what the world experienced before, during and after some of its darkest days, and to see how it not only survived but moved forward to create the world we know today.

Please join us to bring this superb collection to the public. Our vision is to bring this museum to life in 2022, and, with your support, we can do just that.

We need your help today!

Thank you,

Adam, Loni and Frank Buck
